FIFTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

(Psalm 94. 6-7)

Weekly Biblical Reflection

"You are the salt of the earth... You are the light of the world." In today's Gospel, Jesus reveals to us our mission.

It is interesting to see that Jesus does not use the conditional "you should be..." nor the future tense "you will be..." In this passage, Jesus is not telling us what he expects of us; rather, he is revealing to us our true identity and mission. We all have dreams and hopes, and we all strive to be fulfilled and to do something that will help us achieve fulfillment, and there is nothing wrong with that. However, today, Jesus invites us to realize that what really gives meaning to our lives is to be channels of his love and mercy for others. Both salt and light are things that achieve their mission by disappearing; salt melts in order to give taste, and light becomes consumed in order to enlighten. In the same way, Jesus reveals to us that our true happiness comes from giving our life for others.

This mission is not a matter of doing many things; it does not depend on special abilities and means, but it flows from the experience of the love of God, manifested in the cross of Christ. St. Paul reminds us in the second reading that everything in our life needs to flow from the supreme act of love, which is Christ crucified for our sake. God's love was manifested in his giving his life for us, and we will be really fulfilled when, by the grace of God, we will give our life for others.

-Deacon Matteo
